Being disabled does not mean Un-abled, just Differently Able. Mhd. Asif alam is from Delhi born with impaired lower limb. It was a sad moment for the entire family when they came to know about his disability. But they kept motivating themselves as well as and got him enrolled in primary school.

His friends and classmates were not that much supportive and used to make fun of him. Sometimes, he got frustrated because of the behavior of his classmates but couldn't express that and he kept turning an introvert. He completed his Higher Secondary from CBSE board and senior secondary. Though he was interested in further regular studies but because of his not so good financial situation, he enrolled himself for distance learning Graduation program. He started looking for some jobs and used to give interviews in companies. But, because of low confidence level, he got rejected. In search of job only, he came to know about Sarthak Educational Trust in a job fair.

At first, he received call from counseling facility of the organization and he was detailed about the project that is being run in his locality for the sake of the needy and after that enrolled for the training. He got training in basic communication skills, basic computer skills and basic life skills. It made him confident. Moreover, the trainers and his classmates made him comfortable in expressing his thoughts. The sector based training provided him depth understanding of the industry and available job roles. He came to know about his interest areas and was ready to get hired. family is very happy for him now and many a times they have expressed their gratitude towards the trainers of Sarthak Educational Trust .
